Table Lamp 12007-1 "Empire"

The Wood Family

A rarity with the black-gold style this table lamp is made from wood. This further accents the fashion of geometric shapes.

The body is furnished as a straight column, decorated with precisely carved and gilded edges. The panels are then highlighted with artistically engraved figural and stylistic ornaments typical for the Empire period.

The large base gives the lamp a high stability and an optical balance with the voluminous shade.

The shade for a table lamp should be selected as a blend between the lamp's style and the environment of the room in which it is placed.
