Lantern 4021-3

The Viennese Baroque Family

In this simple unadorned lantern we again find the typical techniques of the Viennese Baroque style. Its metal frame is made of crude iron bars which are artfully welded to form this elegant item. This frame is then covered in a leaf-gold finish just as the typical Maria Theresia chandeliers. As a tiny design feature tiny knobs are added on the corners of the frame top and bottom.

With the minimalistic design this lanterns make perfect highlights for baroque anterooms, hallways or staircases. But the also blend into modern architecture wonderfully as traditional accents.
