Table Lamp 42330-4 "Starburst"

The Metropolitan Family

The great example of the Metropolitan Chandelier always was a burden for the table lamp design of this line. With its simple composure of a small version of the chandelier and a simple base with stem the old lamp was much too humble to live up to its prototype.

So Johannes Rath and Jarrett Hedborg joined their creativity to transform the simple "chandelier on a stick" into a new look by setting the starburst head on a collar-like base. The bent support of the head gives it the impression of a shooting star.
