Wall Sconce 42435-W-2 "Blaker"

The Brass Arm Family

This sconce is a wonderful example of our expertise in artful craftsmanship. It is composed of typical candle arms of Dutch brass chandeliers with an exquisite reflector plate.

This reflector plate is composed of eight individually creased and bent sheets of brass which are then mitred and joint. This construct is then skilfully polished by hand to create a spotless reflector surface.

The centre element is a hand-driven oval which is an art form in itself.

It is most common in classical interiors such as entry halls or hallways where the reflection is brought to its greatest expression.
