Chandelier 5201-6 "Jugendstil"

The Jugendstil Family

This chandelier is a wonderful example of Jugendstil ornamentation. The body consists solely of the arms which are highly decorated featuring the typical floral ornaments and geometric patterns.

The arms of the chandelier are made of brass pipes and bent by hand. The ornaments are cast and carefully refined by our craftsmen.

For highest brilliance the fixture is finished in a gold surface. This inspires the whole chandelier and highlights the precious details.

The long rod is a design element of the fixture but can be adjusted to any room height.
