Pendant Lamp 5354-6 "Heiner"

The Viennese Coffee House Family

For the famous Viennese bakery Heiner Hans Harald Rath created this unpretentious little fixture. On a simple frame from polished brass exquisitely cut crystals are mounted to form the typical basket-motive. The bottom part is a rosette on which the crystal chains connect. This rosette is set back into the body of the fixture and adorned with a plain crystal ball. Fixtures such as this were very popular for distinguished commercial objects or hallways. It can be flush-mounted to the ceiling or suspended with a silk rope.
