Chandelier 5894-11 "Ambassador"

The Haerdtl Family

Accustomed to Oswald Haerdtl's long and slender shapes this cute little chandelier strikes the eye as something special. With this fixture designed for the Hotel Ambassador he brings his floral and playful style into small rooms.

The brass frame is fashioned in the same branched way as other pieces of his design but confined to a little ceiling basket. The surface is finely polished. As crystal Haerdtl used leaf-shaped pieces in alteration with plain crystal beads.

Such he creates a lofty and light fixture which is perfectly fit for bed rooms or dressing rooms with low ceilings.
