The Black-Gold Family

The grandfather of one of our craftsmen spent his apprentice years in France. There he learned the art of the typical black-gold French Empire fixtures and brought moulds and tools to Vienna.

More than 100 years later his grandson, of veritable age himself, is still producing these exquisite fixtures in our workshop and is training the next generation in the distinguished techniques. Techniques as casting, chemical gilding and various kinds of embossing among others and the original design drawings enable us to create original that can not be found anywhere else today.
