Loos Cooler

design: Adolf Loos, 1931; Hubmann&Vass, 2011

Hubmann & Vass architects from Vienna made their dream come true: From a tiny sketch by Adolf Loos on the back of a business card they reconstructed the design of this Champagne cooler. It is an impressive piece with surprising optical effects. The picture shows the cooler with six matching tumblers for "Feingespritzter", Loos' favourite drink – a mix of soda and Champagne.
