

CATS – LYING CAT

Those who have had the opportunity to peer over the shoulder of an artist while they paint a figure at the manufactory will know just how much responsibility and professionalism lies within this traditional craft. Like a professional make-up artist, eyes are rouged, lips accentuated and characteristic features of the body emphasised with fine contours and shading. It requires a lot of intuition and a good eye for the essential. This is the only way a sleeping cat such as this one can be brought to life with just a few strokes of the brush.
